KickArts 2004 Annual Report & Acquittal

1. Introduction

KickArts Contemporary Arts is the leading contemporary visual arts organisation in regional Queensland and one of the most innovative in the state. Based in Cairns, with a demographic encompassing Far North Queensland and extending into the remote and regional communities of Cape York and Torres Strait the organisation is dedicated to facilitating and promoting contemporary arts and extending the experience and cultural life of northern Australians.

In April 2004 KickArts in partnership with JUTE Theatre, opened the Centre of Contemporary Arts (CoCA), a unique and innovative new multi-purpose contemporary arts facility, located at 96 Abbott Street in the central business district of Cairns. CoCA is animated by KickArts program of gallery exhibitions and retail shop on a daily basis, forming a catalyst and hub featuring Australian and International artists, professional development programs and 'KidsArt', a program of workshops especially designed for children. Within its first year of operation these activities have become a recognised benchmark and a link for the local and transitory tourist community alike to experience the vital and unique contemporary visual culture of northern Australia.

2. Chair's Message

The KickArts Board of Directors has continued working progressively towards the continual improvement of KickArts strategic and financial management through the past year. The Boards activities provide overall management direction for KickArts staff who in turn offer a professional and comprehensive program of contemporary visual arts to the diverse community of Tropical North Queensland. Working closely with the staff allows the organisation to collectively bring together and deliver the company's goals and objectives in a professional and accessible environment.

The KickArts strategic plan has now been updated subsequent to our first year of operation in the new premises at CoCA. Three revised and updated goals constitute significant focus for the next three years – these goals being:

1. Facilitate a program of activities that supports a professional platform for contemporary artists from TNQ, Australia and overseas.
2. Establish a Centre of Excellence for Printmaking.
3. Develop the KickArts Shop as a financially successful retail experience of unique, high quality art, craft and design.

Our major achievement for 2004 has been the successful transition from our modest accommodation in an old Queenslander in Lake Street to our new location in the magnificent Centre of Contemporary Arts (COCA). The move has allowed the organisation to program and operate two A Class galleries, a sophisticated foyer retail outlet and significant first floor studio workshop space in addition to administrative offices - all contributing to a dynamic new hub for contemporary visual culture in a prominent and professional environment.

These facilities have substantially expanded operations and provided a new role for KickArts in the presentation of a full exhibition program in a venue that is fostering the development of artists and the promotion of contemporary arts featuring the works of Tropical North Queensland artists.

This substantial increase in operational capacity has had a significant impact on our limited financial resources, with core activity reliant on extended trading hours, additional staffing requirements and costs associated with the presentation of a public program. KickArts Board of Directors will focus on securing additional funds to support these new initiatives, thus committing to provide stability for the company so it can concentrate on long-term development strategies that will be essential to the future of KickArts.

Along with supporting the financial security of KickArts, the Board of Directors will also work with KickArts staff and the CoCA Stage Two Development Team to implement a rehearsal space for JUTE, a kitchen for Liquid Café and Bar and a Centre of Excellence in Printmaking for KickArts.

On behalf of KickArts Board of Directors and Staff I would like to thank and acknowledge Arts Queensland and the Australia Council for the Arts through the Visual Art and Craft Strategy for their ongoing commitment to support KickArts. Special recognition and appreciation goes to all of our sponsors for 2004 and the many, many volunteers, who generously supported us with their time and expertise. It is the generosity, energy and magnanimous commitment of many dedicated supporters that has contributed to making our first year in the Centre of Contemporary Arts a wonderful success.

KickArts 2004 Annual Report & Acquittal

The KickArts staff have done a great job, working long and unusual hours to deliver a diverse range of activities and services. Of course, our Director Rae O'Connell has, once again, done a magnificent job in providing the leadership, direction and support that is needed to keep the KickArts' operations going. With my fellow Board members I would like to say thank you to Rae, the staff, and their families, for their contributions this past year.

And to my fellow Board Members I would like to say thanks for your professionalism in providing the necessary governance and support of our organisation – it is wonderful to work with such committed people in developing the cultural life of the community of Tropical North Queensland.

Finally, thank you also to the Boards and staff of COCA and JUTE for their cooperation and tolerance during our first year – we make a great team and I'm sure that we'll continue to do so for many years yet!

3. Director's Message

I had always anticipated that if we did manage to secure our own premises that it would be a new era for KickArts, but I never imagined how much bigger our profile would become and the interest that would be generated not only on a local level but on a national and international level. KickArts has always pursued partnerships with individual artists and organisations across Australia and Internationally but now that we have an exciting venue and facilities on offer we are attracting substantial new collaborative partnerships. The wonderful new premises at CoCA stands in recognition of all the individuals that magnanimously volunteered their expertise, time and commitment for well over a decade to provide an accessible, dedicated and professional platform for the presentation and service of contemporary arts in Cairns. These efforts have not only secured the formation of the Centre of Contemporary Arts but have placed KickArts as a recognised leader in contemporary arts in Queensland. I have been lucky enough to be involved on many levels with KickArts over the past 10 years and have been privileged to work with many talented and committed individuals who have all worked hard to pursue a great future for the organisation.

The eight months we were open to the public in 2004 brought about great excitement, enthusiasm and goodwill from our established supporters and an influx of new supporters. The inaugural exhibition opening function in the new Centre of Contemporary Arts, Hitting On and Kicking Off, saw over 600 people attend. Rupert Myer officiated this event and his comment after was;

'I have never been to an opening where everyone who was there truly wanted to be, it is a pleasure to be here too'.

KickArts presented nine exhibitions by the end of 2004 along with a professional development program focusing on the KickArts Lecture Series, Business Units and the KidsArt workshop program. KickArts also implemented a subscription program called 'Insider' attracting over 200 subscribers from the general public, artists, remote communities, organisations, the corporate and business sector.

This was an enormous year and the result of a great team effort. With the support and faith of the honorary KickArts Board of Directors, the professional commitment from the KickArts staff, and the wonderful work from the talented artists who participated in the program of events, KickArts can stand proud of its achievements for 2004.

One of the ancillary highlights of our 2004 program were the sophisticated performances at our opening functions, these have created a unique character and distinguish our events from traditional gallery openings and similar events in Cairns. Performance artists engage the audience and allow the audience to become a part of the opening, creating a memorable event. This was most significant at the KickArts Shop merchandising exhibition, Nature Culture, where the performance artist Rebecca Youdell moved throughout the crowd with several costume changes that featured works from the exhibition. Other performances by Miss Sue Veneer emanating from Bonemap, at the opening of FNQ Souvenir engaged the audience as the stars with Miss Sue Veneer securing autographs for her album as a keep sake. KickArts audiences were also treated to the premier of Indigenous artist Zane Saunder's contemporary performance at the opening of Corresponding Latitudes. This powerful performance captivated the entire crowd, young and not so young with his painted body and stirring movements.

With this new innovative presence in Cairns we are breaking ground in attracting a new audience for contemporary art with some patrons never having visited a gallery before. It is also worth noting that

KickArts now operates a major cultural facility accessible to the 2.2 million visitors that come to Cairns annually.

KickArts has continuously received support for its programs through the generosity of local sponsors. All events held in 2004 were liberally catered for by Liquid Café and Bar with delicious platters that were a real crowd pleaser and consumed within the first hour of a function. The Holiday Inn Cairns has been an ongoing sponsor providing a number of nights free accommodation and heavily discounted rates generally. With the extremely convenient location directly across the road, and their warm and welcoming staff, our visitors had a memorable experience. Chris Byrne Shop fitting and Interiors contributed to the office fit-out with a desk extension and also a cash contribution to World and Cultural Heritage that off set some of the exhibition expenses along with donations from all of the visiting support people who travelled with the international exhibiting artists. Brumby's provide freshly baked goodies for the KidsArt workshops which, kept the children energised in their creative endeavours. Bolton Inprint have provided us with beautifully printed promotional material at cost and discounted prices and support for differentiated printing design product notably the catalogue for FNQ Souvenir. The Torres Strait Regional Authority have again played a role in supporting artists from the Torres Strait to participate in KickArts events particularly Stanley Lafoo's travel expenses so he could participate in FNQ Souvenir which will be travelling to the new Gab Titui Cultural Centre in 2005. Fowlers Financial Group and Joe Vella Insurance Brokers also generously contributed to the costs associated with Nature Culture along with discounted wine from Jimbour Wines and equipment from Stage Works Australia. Our Insiders party and exhibition opening was a very festive event with lucky barrel prizes donated by Reef Magic Cruises, HighScan, Jimbour wines, Cairns Drawing Supplies, Holiday Inn Cairns and Liquid Café and Bar. A major exhibition at the end of the year Corresponding Latitudes was curated by Melissa Waters who also attracted considerable funds through the Australia – India Council, Regional Arts Development Fund through Cairns City Council and Arts Queensland project funding. These valuable funds supported some of the international artists to travel to Cairns for the exhibition and later for the forum along with the production of a catalogue and technical requirements of the exhibition. Finally thanks goes to the Cairns Regional Gallery, in particular to Director Louise Doyle for her ongoing professional support and to Paul Brinkman during our collaborative project Contemporary Glass Art, KickArts Forum Series No. 7.

Finally, I would like to thank, on behalf of everyone at KickArts, the dedicated team of volunteers, who assist the staff with exhibition installation, maintenance, administration and research. We are extremely grateful to them all for their committed hours of service to KickArts.

Thanks also must go to the committed KickArts staff whom I have had the privilege to work and collaborate with, KickArts Board of Directors, sponsors, donors, artists and all who have contribute to the success of KickArts over the past 10 years and assisted with its success today. I extend my sincere thanks, admiration and appreciation.

4. KickArts Highlights

In a year full of excitement, our inaugural exhibition in the new galleries Hitting On & Kicking Off included the best works from across Tropical North Queensland. Having two traditional Aboriginal stories 'Bone Fish' and 'Flying Fox Story' created specifically for this exhibition by Aurukun Elder Arthur Pambegan Junior, was a great tribute to the inauguration of our gallery spaces. Artworks from New Zealand artists Elizabeth Thompson and Gerda Leenards were also created specifically for this exhibition. These guest artists traveled to Cairns for the opening function with Arthur and his family dancing in the stories for both of his works. The opening night had many performances and the crowd was treated to the contemporary performance Bridge Song by Bonemap with Rebecca Youdell and musicians Venessa Tomlinson and Erik Griswold. Torres Strait dances by Alick Tipoti and Joey Laifoo provided a lively performance thrilling children in the front row with their powerful moves to traditional drums and a performance by Geoffrey Waia brought the house down with his interpretation of Michael Jackson's Thriller with contemporary islander dancing. Former Torres Strait Regional Authority Chair Terry Waia accompanied the traditional dancing on drums and gave a heartfelt speech in the official proceedings. Rupert Myer traveled to Cairns to open the exhibition and has continued his relationship with KickArts. Six hundred people queuing to get into the galleries was a very welcome site and one we will all remember for many years to come.

KickArts Shop features a varying range of high quality art, craft and design with an extensive selection of unique jewelry. A gallery owner visiting KickArts was given a list of artists who would be able to supply their new art rooms in Melbourne. From this contact Jandy Panell is now represented in Mars Melbourne Art Rooms being included in a major opening and a selection of her work purchased. Numerous artists' exchanges happen between KickArts Shop and other outlets of unique art, craft and design that extended the exposure of artists and their work across Australia.

KickArts 2004 Annual Report & Acquittal

5. Program review

KickArts had anticipated opening CoCA in February 2004 and had planned an ambitious program to present 10 exhibitions, 10 lectures, a merchandising event for the KickArts Shop and workshops for adults and children along with some external events. Due to building delays the program commenced on 23 April 2004, thus requiring rescheduling of exhibitions into a compressed timeline and renegotiating commitments made with artists and organisations both local and international.

With the ambitious inaugural program firm it soon became apparent that the scope of work would be a stretch compared to the number of staff to coordinate it, even with our team of volunteers. The resulting 9 exhibitions, 7 lectures, one KickArts Shop merchandising event, workshops for children and no external events created a level of creative program activity that was still very high considering the level of human and financial resources available.

With these new professional facilities the exhibition program attracted great interest from artists across Australia and internationally with 2 exhibitions featuring works from international artists extensively and one major exhibition of works from Munupi in the Northern Territory. The other six exhibitions were curated by KickArts with 4 group exhibitions allowing for extended participation and 2 smaller exhibitions featuring works by emerging artists and a major work from a previous KickArts exhibition Linkage Leakage.

Future exhibition programming is going to require additional funds to achieve the level of research, development and administration consummate for curatorial activity of high quality and diversity expected in a contemporary art gallery. In 2005 major funding through grants, sponsorship and donations will be required if funding levels are not increased through KickArts major arts funding.

The KickArts Lecture Series 2004 was funded from a major project grant from Arts Queensland and created a lot of interest and allowed KickArts to invite professionals from the arts industries to come to Cairns and share some of their experience through dialogue and debate. Where possible these events were scheduled to coincide with other cultural events in the program thus extending the resources invested in this program. Guest speakers were extremely generous with many not invoicing for their speakers fees allowing for more out-of-Cairns participants to be included in the program.

A lot of resources went into coordinating many of these ancillary events with little lead time in between each lecture. In review it has been agreed to facilitate one major forum event in 2005 with more resources going into its promotion over a longer time to increase audiences in diversity, demographic and quantity.

The KickArts Shop merchandising event, Nature Culture, proved to be a great success. This event was designed to extend our audience and target people in Cairns who would appreciate the high quality art, craft and design offered through the KickArts Shop. This strategy worked with over 80% of guests attending the opening night were new audiences to not only KickArts Shop but the KickArts galleries and other venues at CoCA. Resources to hold this event were high in terms of both financial and human. The other out come from this event was exposure for the 25 individual artists including collaborative labels and two art organisations eg. Lockhart River artists and Tiwi design artists.

On securing a Gaming Machine grant for set up equipment KickArts was able to purchase some materials for the commencement of the KidsArt program. Workshops for children were held over school holidays and after school skills development sessions were held during school terms. The format and duration of workshops was varied until a formula came together that worked for the children and tutor that resulted with classes filling by the end of the year and a following of children returning for consecutive workshops.

No artist workshops were held for adults due to current level of resources.

The KickArts Insiders subscribers program has been a great success with entry on all levels. This is due to the diversity and inclusiveness of entry levels catering for anyone who would like to be connected to KickArts in some way.

KickArts also offers an arts consultancy service to generate income that supports the creative program and also supports business and industry in the acquisition of contemporary art works. To secure these commissions KickArts tenders or provides quotation to clients and then offers a management service. This business unit has resulted in the sale of artworks from local artists and other arts services.

KickArts has also chaired and coordinated the meetings between cultural institutions in Cairns, TAFE and JCU to develop a Bachelor of Creative Industries. The goal of these meetings is to develop a program that can be offered here in Cairns that extends the qualifications in the arts industries across art forms.

World and Cultural Heritage

Opening 5pm Saturday 26 June by Peter Bridgman, Deputy Director General Arts Queensland

KickArts was proud to work in collaboration with the Global Cultural Centre (GCC) of Japan to present the 8th International Group Show (IGS). Established 1990 in Japan by the sculptor Kenji Horiuchi, GCC has been recognised as a non-profit organisation in France since 1995. GCC is composed of and entirely administered by Artists of diverse arts practice and from all nations.

This exhibition event has been established to bring Artists together from across the world to share their artwork, experiences as Artists and to create dialogue and support of Artists by Artists. 41 artists participated, 28 international, 2 national and 11 local north Queenslanders. Approximately 10 support people also came to assist and celebrate the event. Some of these artists have participated in all of the eight exhibitions held with the final two being held in the States and then the final exhibition in Japan.

In Australia, World Heritage status is generally associated with our significant and diverse endemic, geographic and natural habitats, but globally some built environs are also classified as World Heritage for their cultural importance. This exhibition asked Artists to focus on the natural world and the environmental heritage from their country of origin or from an area of the natural world that has personal importance and conveys that importance through their creative practice.

This KickArts curated exhibition for touring is an exploration of the notion of the souvenir and was showcased in Festival Cairns 2004. This exhibition features the artworks of 11 North Queensland artists from Cairns to the Torres Strait.

This exhibition has been supported with funding from Regional Arts Development Fund and Regional Arts Fund for artists, writers and photographers fees along with Regional Galleries Association for exhibition development and the Torres Strait Regional Authority supporting Stanley Laifoo's participation from the Torres Strait.

Funds for touring were sought from Visions of Australia without success and KickArts will investigate managing the tour and funding it with gallery loan fees.

FNQ Souvenir presents new works, based on the conceptual notion of souvenirs, a predominate factor when living in a tourism location with over 2.2 million visitors each year. Tropical North Queensland is rich with cultural diversity and these artists provide an interpretation of their experiences living and working here.

KickArts Annual Insider Fund Raising Exhibition was an inclusive exhibition for Insider Artist subscribers incorporating an exclusive party for all Insider subscribers. Insider Artists were invited to respond to a curatorial brief of identity in our culture and its particularly close and complex relationship to questions of visual representation. By looking at things differently artists present us with an image of their world, either through disguise or revelation. The GLARE exhibition was a birds-eye view of artists' representation of the act of looking.

64 artists exhibited from across Tropical North Queensland and interstate exhibited 79 artworks that were available for sale through silent auction. The artist received 50% of the final bid with the remaining donated to KickArts. Some artists very generously donated 100% of the auction price to KickArts.

Uber Urbanism

Architecture + Self - Two young emerging artists were brought together to exhibit as both artists seek to transcend the art object through their practice. Uber Urbanism is an encounter with art structured as spatial relationships. Both artists take the assimilation of perception and image to a broader discourse, that of the relationship between architecture and self, albeit in uniquely different ways.

Thompson has an interest in developing mathematical imagination as a perceptual 'tool' to comprehend the inconceivable nature of the universe. While Street's emphasis is on governing architectural principles of everyday existence. The artists seek to engage our gaze in the creation of meaning in the built environment and attempt to provide 'places' which reconnect us with natural phenomena. They want us to feel a shift in perceptual space when we encounter their work.

Corresponding Latitudes

8 artists from India and 5 artists from Australia curated by Melissa Waters with a curatorial premise based on the cultural encounters and exchange of dialogue leading to discovery, contemplation and an awareness of layered perspectives.

Corresponding Latitudes, as a curatorial cultural exchange showcasing recent work, has been realised over the last two years with the first exhibition held in Jaipur, Rajasthan in February/March 2003. This second exhibition in Cairns has expanded on the first with the addition of three new Indian artists and four new Australian artists and with new art works being created. Shiv Kumar Gandhi's inclusion will see him visit Australia for the latter half of the exhibition in January 2005.

The fourteen artists, eight Indian and six Australian, in Corresponding Latitudes have explored their sense of identity and have investigated the visual dialogue of their respective cultures and how they view themselves. Their art represents a diversity of views, cultural backgrounds and environments that communicates across boundaries and cultures.

5.3 Professional Development

KickArts Lecture Series 2004

Cross Pollination of Ideas and Concepts

KickArts Lecture Series has helped to develop a culture of debate and discussion within the contemporary arts community in Cairns. Each lecture/forum has contributed to the understanding and broadening of information around pertinent themes and concepts in contemporary arts practice. These ancillary events have extended the exhibition program adding value and depth. The Lecture Series has brought attention to the role of contemporary arts in moderating current political and societal values in a democratic and accessible forum. This has benefited marginalised groups with specific concerns by providing a catalyst for community recognition and cultural identity.

KickArts continues to attract a broad range of community members through the Lecture Series, this reflects on the issue based exhibition program and what has become a platform for informed discussion and dissemination of these issues. The program has successfully imparted current, emerging and established trends to a diverse cross section of the arts community and into the broader social framework of Tropical North Queensland. The benefit in creating awareness of issues around the contemporary arts has developed the perception of audiences fostering understanding and tolerance in the community.

Each of the seven lectures/forums covered in this series has engaged with a particular concern or topic within current contemporary arts practice and ideology. The program has remained flexible to the currency of issues within the broader national and international industry and community of practice as it is visible to local practitioners. The title of each lecture/forum reveals the issues raised and general ground covered.

Attendance figures for the Lecture Series to date total approximately 180. Journal coverage either by review or editorial has significantly extended the dissemination of the programs concerns. For example: Arts Nexus has published detailed review/commentary by independent writers subsequent to a number of the lecture/forums.

Development of an Informed Audience

Although the Lecture Series caters to the interests of a particular niche audience within the arts community many of the topics and events have attracted people outside this niche. Due to the specialised nature of the lecture/forums and the diversity of concerns covered attendances by people outside the contemporary arts is encouraging.

5.4 Education

KidsArt – children’s workshops program was held during school holidays and after school throughout the year with more and more returning participants. The school holiday programs focused on fun arts activities relating to current exhibitions within the galleries with children visiting the exhibitions and then drawing on these for inspiration. The workshops held after school were more focused on skills development with children gaining a more in depth understanding of art forms, techniques and interpretation.

One of the goals of the KidsArt program is to expose young people to exhibitions and the gallery environment generally, so they become accustomed to frequenting galleries and developing an understanding of the role of contemporary art in their environment.

5.5 KickArts Shop

A grant from Regional Partnerships through the Department of Transport and Regional Services enabled the complete fit out of KickArts Shop, located in the main foyer of CoCA. KickArts Shop Supervisor, Georgina Hutchinson has brought empty shelves to life with high quality art, craft and design, which animates the foyer and provides a much needed retail outlet for makers of unique merchandise.

Developing a retail profile for this market lead to a unique merchandising exhibition ‘Nature Culture’ with 22 artists featured with jewellery, hats, bags, scarves and belts. With the generous support of volunteers an invitation list was developed of individuals who would be interested in this unique market.

5.6 Venue Hire

During the first year of operation at CoCA KickArts has hired the galleries and studio space to corporate and community organisations. This is one of KickArts self generated income streams but is limited to the extent that the spaces can be hired depending on programming of exhibitions and studio programs.

The galleries currently do not offer very good acoustics thus are loud when a group of people start communicating. They do however offer organisations who host special events a unique, contemporary experience with constantly changing exhibitions and no requirement for theming with traditional commercial knick knackery. All events are catered for by Red Ochre with high quality food and beverage packages.

7. Supporters

7.1. Funding Partners

KickArts has been generously supported by Arts Queensland, the Australia Council through the Visual Arts and Crafts Fund through their triennial funding program in return for KickArts delivering a diverse contemporary arts program for the Tropical North Queensland region. Without this ongoing support it would be impossible for KickArts to plan and develop programs and other funding partners. For this support KickArts is extremely grateful.

In 2004 KickArts has also received financial support from:

- Regional Arts Fund
- Regional Arts Development Fund
- Festival Cairns through Advertising
- Regional Galleries Association Queensland
- Torres Strait Regional Authority
- India Council

7.2. Volunteers

KickArts has evolved and developed from the support, services and expertise of volunteers and their ongoing support to contemporary arts. Without volunteers KickArts would not be where it is today and once again we see many, many individuals come forward and generously offer their time and professional skill to assist with our program.

The 2004 KickArts Volunteer program has been very successful with Janette Laver developing a program for volunteers to enable them in the successful delivery of the KickArts program. A substantial amount of resources is required to run a successful volunteer program that provides the volunteers with valuable outcomes along with assisting the organisation. Volunteers come and go as they secure employment or other family matters take them away resulting in an ongoing drive and training of new volunteers.

7.3. Corporate Sponsors & Partners

Corporate sponsors and Partners bring support to KickArts in many ways, building on the experience our patrons have when they attend a KickArts event and allowing the program to be extended, by including more artists and arts workers, catering for openings which are always a crowd pleaser and encourages people to stay longer, to broader marketing and making our facilities function more productively and professionally. In kind support is always easier to secure but this does not diminish the generosity that comes with it as all these contributions combined have supported the success of KickArts.

Audit approach

We conducted an independent audit in order to express an opinion to the members of the company. Our audit was conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards, in order to provide reasonable assurance as to whether the financial report is free of material misstatement. The nature of an audit is influenced by factors such as the use of professional judgment, selective testing, the inherent limitations of internal control, and the availability of persuasive rather than conclusive evidence. Therefore an audit cannot guarantee that all material misstatements have been detected.

We performed procedures to assess whether in all material respects the financial report presents fairly, in accordance with the accounting policies as described in Note 1, so as to present a view which is consistent with our understanding of the company's financial position, and of its performance as represented by the results of its operations and cash flows. These policies do not require the application of all Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia. No opinion is expressed as to whether the accounting policies used, and described in Note 1, are appropriate for the needs of the members.

examining, on a test basis, information to provide evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial report, and assessing the appropriateness of the accounting policies and disclosures used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors.

While we considered the effectiveness of management's internal controls over financial reporting when determining the nature and extent of our procedures, our audit was not designed to provide assurance on internal controls.

Independence

In conducting our audit, we followed applicable independence requirements of Australian professional ethical pronouncements.

Audit Opinion

In our opinion, the financial report presents fairly, in accordance with the accounting policies described in Note 1 to the financial statements, the financial position of as at 31st December 2004 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended.
